Course Description and Target Audience

This presentation will provide a broad overview of state psychology licensing boards, with special emphasis on the regulations governing the practice of Psychology in the State of Indiana. Participants will learn about ways to work with respective psychology licensing boards and avoid appearances before them for misconduct. An update on the currently important topics of telepsychology and mobility will be reviewed. Resources such as The National Register and the Association of State and Provincial Psychology Boards (ASPPB) will be reviewed. There are no known risks to this presentation.

The target audience is mental health providers (advanced doctoral level psychology trainees, psychologists in practice, master's level clinicians etc).

Learning Objectives

- Participants will demonstrate an understanding of the roles state psychology licensing boards play in regulating the practice of psychology in various jurisdictions.
- Participants will be able to list the common reasons psychologists are asked to appear before a state psychology licensing board and ways to avoid these reasons.
- Participants will demonstrate a greater understanding of the beneficent aspects of state psychology licensing boards and the composition of such boards and their membership.
- Participants will be able to describe the current state of affairs regarding telepsychology and mobility across various licensing jurisdictions.
- Participants will describe the benefits of the following: ASPPB (Association of State and Provincial Psychology Boards), The National Register of Health Service Psychologists, and CPQ (Certificate of Professional Qualification in Psychology)

Presenter Information

Joseph Biggs, Ph.D., is the current Chairperson of the Indiana State Psychology Board (ISPB), which is a division of the Indiana Professional Licensing Agency (IPLA). The ISPB is responsible for the regulation of the practice of psychology in Indiana. Dr. Biggs has been an ISPB member since August 2008.
